Note From Parade President to Star Editor

If the Star's Editor is wrong in opposing a new post office for Hope at least he's in famous company.

Above is a photograph of a note written in New York City February 15 by Arthur H. (Red) Motley, president of Parade Magazine, circulated coast to coast by more Sunday newspapers than any other supplement.

Hope Star's position has been endorsed by: The 18 newspapers of the Scripps-Howard circuit, Wall Street Journal, Tampa (Fla.) Tribune, Chicago Sun-Times, and others.

Mr. Motley's note was clipped to a tear-sheet from Editor & Publisher of January 11 featuring our attack on the Hope Post Office project and a picture of the editor standing in front of The Star Building with the post office in the background — a photograph originally carried by Associated Press Wirephoto.

Three Vehicle Accident Here

On East Third Street yesterday cars driven by Jamie Martin, C. G. Tittle and Buck Rogers collided with heavy damage to the Martin auto. The other two had light damage. City Officer Martin investigated.

Probers Push on in Baker Case Hearing

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Puerto Rican politician Jose A. Benitez told Senate investigators that he voluntarily cut his "very good friend" Bobby Baker in on a finder's fee in a meat import deal.

Benitez testified he gave Baker "participation" because Baker, then secretary to the Senate Democratic majority, arranged in 1961 for him and a Puerto Rican meat dealer, Andres Lopez, to meet the Washington representatives of the Murchison interests in Texas.

The slaughterhouse in Port au Prince, Haiti, from which the meat is imported is owned by the Murchisons.

The story of Baker's role in the meat deal had been told in testimony previously taken by the Senate Rules Committee, but Benitez gave it a splash of color.

He rattled off how in 1961 he came to Washington and enlisted Baker's help after Lopez told him he could provide cheaper meat for Puerto Ricans if he could get the output of the Murchisons' plant in Haiti.

One of the problems was to get clearance for the Haitian meat to enter Puerto Rico and the continental United States. This was granted by the Agriculture Department.

Benitez, a former Democratic chairman in Puerto Rico, was appointed by the late President Kennedy in May 1961 as deputy high commissioner of the Pacific trust territory.

In earlier explorations of the meat deal, the Senate investigators received testimony that both the seller and the buyer of the meat are paying fees to the "finders" of the deal.

Benitez testified that he and his wife are still receiving about $250 a month as their share of the finder's fee, and said he assumes Baker is receiving a like amount.

There is substantial opinion around the Senate that while a lot of smoke still may pour out of the investigation, most of its low-burning fire may have been snuffed out.

A Republican member of the Senate Rules Committee, unwilling to be quoted by name, said that Democrats were talking about a speedy windup of the inquiry but that Republicans have around 40 prospective witnesses they want interviewed and possibly called to testify.

Baker, who resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, is under subpoena to appear for questioning at a public hearing next Tuesday.

But he said Wednesday, after a closed hearing at which he refused to surrender subpoenaed documents, that he would follow the advice of his lawyers and decline to answer the committee's questions.

The committee said that after Tuesday's hearing it will consider whether to recommend to the Senate that he be cited for contempt of Congress, punishable by a year in jail, a $1,000 fine, or both.

It is investigating whether Baker, while on the Senate payroll at $19,600-a-year, engaged in outside business and financial dealings that conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

Among witnesses called to testify today were W. F. Collins, president of the District of Columbia National Bank, and Jose Benitez, deputy high commissioner of the Pacific Trust Territory and a former Democratic chairman in Puerto Rico.

The committee said Collins would be asked about loans Baker has obtained from the bank, in which Baker has reportedly holding 1,500 shares of stock. Benitez has been linked with Baker in prior testimony involving imports of meat from Haiti.

40 Arrested in Pine Bluff Demonstration

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Two Negro teen-agers were released on $500 bond each today but 38 others arrested Wednesday night in an anti-segregation demonstration in the county jail.

With the min the county jail were Negro comedian Dick Gregory and white civil rights organizer William Hansen, who were arrested Monday when they refused to leave a segregated cafe.

The Rev. Ben Grinage, chairman of the anti-segregation Pine Bluff Movement, said the other 38 had been asked to remain in jail "until their purpose is served."

More demonstrations at Ray's Truckers' Inn cafe, scene of the earlier arrests, were expected later today.

Municipal Judge Wilton Steed set a preliminary hearing for the 38 Negroes for Monday. Gregory and Hansen are to be tried on charges of refusing to leave a place of business on orders from the management.

The Negroes sang and pounded on the walls of the county jail today.

Sheriff Harold Norton said the jail had "lots more room."

Gregory said earlier "We intend to stay here until that place (the cafe) is integrated," he said.

Gregory, Hansen and the 40 arrested Wednesday night are charged with refusing to leave Ray's Truckers' Inn at the request of Ray Watson, a part-owner in the cafe.

Norton stood at Watson's side Wednesday night as the proprietor asked demonstrators to leave. Norton made the arrests when they would not.

About 12 law enforcement officers, including six State Troopers, were on the scene.

Hansen, a white man, is a field secretary for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee. He and Gregory, well-known civil rights leaders, were arrested Wednesday.

Once leaders move to bring the civil rights bill up for action, a filibuster by Southern opponents is expected to erupt and block all other Senate business or a matter of weeks—for even months.

Republicans have indicated they would oppose any move or a speed-up in action on the farm measure.

Frigid Weather Slated to Stay

Frigid air that moved over Arkansas Wednesday night following rain and snow will remain in the state tonight and Friday, the Weather Bureau said.

Overnight lows dipped to the low 20s in the north and nowhere in the state were minimum temperatures above freezing early today, the bureau said.

The Weather Bureau predicts a chance of rain in the south portion Friday. Lows tonight should range from 22 to 32.

The five-day outlook calls for below normal temperatures, with some rain over the weekend and the first of next week.

Cotton or Civil Rights Facing the Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hurrying to clear the decks for the upcoming civil rights debate, Senate Democratic leaders may decide today whether to start floor action on a cotton-wheat bill on Saturday.

Assistant Democratic leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota urged leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to accept this schedule after the Senate Agriculture Committee passed the measure Wednesday.

If floor consideration starts Saturday, Humphrey said, "We can continue debate on it Monday and Tuesday until the tax bill comes over from the House. We can lay it aside while we act on the tax bill, and then return to the far measure."

The Senate is currently marking time, pending House action on the $11.5 billion tax cut measure which was approved Wednesday by Senate - House conferees.

President Johnson told Democratic leaders he wanted the civil rights bill taken up as soon as the tax bill receives final approval—expected either Tuesday or Wednesday.

Once leaders move to bring the civil rights bill up for action, a filibuster by Southern opponents is expected to erupt and block all other Senate business or a matter of weeks—for even months.

Republicans have indicated they would oppose any move or a speed-up in action on the farm measure.

Sheriffs Want Registration; ALC Undecided

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sentiment of Legislative Council members was divided today as to which county official should serve as voter registrar.

The council met to settle this and other areas of dispute in a proposed voter registration bill which will be submitted to a special legislative session starting next Wednesday.

A majority of the council members polled by The Associated Press favored designating the county assessor as the voter registrar as now provided in the bill.

But there was enough of a difference of opinion that the situation could change when county sheriff-collectors appear before the council to make an appeal or the job. Assessors will appear at the same time to say that they do not want it.

Cleveland County Rep. Raymond Mays said that in an ideal situation each county would have a separate voter registrar. But, he added, establishing a new office would be unfeasible because of the expense.

"Lots of people object to anyone in public office having anything to do with registration of voters," Mays said.

Under the poll tax system, which will be replaced by the voter registration bill, sheriff collectors have handled registration of voters. The council decided during a two-day public hearing on the proposed bill that assessors should have the job because the registration period coincides with the time or assessing property and it would be convenient or the voter if he could assess and register in the same office.

Rep. Jim Brandon of Pulaski County said Wednesday he would present the compromise.

Divorcee Shoots Wildly at Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—A distraught divorcee took a wild shot in the busy Dallas air terminal Wednesday at a man she mistook, by her later account, for radio executive Gordon McLendon.

The bullet, fired from 15 feet at W. W. Dyer, 48, of Dallas, lodged in a small handbag carried by D. A. Peterson of Park Ridge, Ill. Both men were walking to board at 4:45 p.m. flight to Chicago.

Dyer's wife shoved the woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Stone, 47, to the floor, police said, as she tried to shoot again and the weapon jammed. An airline employee wrested the 32-caliber automatic pistol from Mrs. Stone.

McLendon, a candidate for U.S. senator in Texas' Democratic primary May 6, described the incident as an obvious attempt to assassinate him. He said he would ask Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to order an FBI investigation.

City Detective Frank Mote said Mrs. Stone told him she had been upset since a hidden rifleman killed President Kennedy here Nov. 22.

She intended to kill McLendon, questioners quoted her as saying, because "he is a Communist and fools around with Cosa Nostra."

Mrs. Stone, who moved here recently from neighboring Fort Worth, bought the pistol last week in a Fort Worth department store, police related. She said she had never seen McLendon.

As the shot was fired in busy Love Field Terminal, McLendon was visiting at the home of a friend.

5.3 Million Chicks Started
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas producers started 5,335,000 broiler chicks during the week ended Feb. 15, the Crop Reporting Service estimated today, two per cent above the figure for the previous week.

Of total placements in the state, 4,652,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas and 583,000 were shipped in. The estimated total of 6,933,000 eggs set for broiler-type chicks during the week was two per cent above the previous week.

Cuban Fishing Crews Fined and Released

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Twenty-nine Freed Cuban fishermen boarded their four trawlers today to sail or their homeland but were delayed, apparently by mechanical trouble on one of the boats.

The Coast Guard cutters Cape Darby and Cape York and a patrol boat stood by to escort the trawlers into international waters. The Cubans and their Castro-owned boats were captured 18 days ago for poaching in U.S. waters.

Czech diplomat Frantisek Telicka of Washington paid fines of $500 each Wednesday for the four captains of the goats on behalf of the Fidel Castro government. The captains were given suspended sentences in addition to the fines. Judge Thomas Caro dismissed similar charges against 25 crewmen, saying they merely took orders.

The Coast Guard took the fishermen into custody Feb. 2 off Florida's Day Tortugas Islands and turned them over to the state since the applicable federal statute, provided no penalties.

Fire Truck at Scene Stolen

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Firemen battled a blaze which damaged three buildings Wednesday night. Seven fire trucks arrived at the scene in a neighborhood shopping center. Suddenly, there were only six trucks.

An alarm was sounded for a stolen fire truck. It later was found abandoned about a mile away. Authorities said several small boys were seen leave the vehicle.

14 Missing From Ship, Search Is on

By ROBERT HOLTON
NEW YORK (AP)—A Coast Guard cutter and planes continued searching the North Atlantic today for 14 men missing from the storm-battered British grain ship Ambassador, but their survival was considered improbable.

Twenty of the 35 crew members have been rescued. The captain died.

Coast Guard area headquarters reported that a Dutch tugboat today took over the listing and abandoned Ambassador as a Prize of the sea.

The Coast Guard cutter Coos Bay radioed early today that the tugboat Elbe put men aboard the Ambassador, they stopped flooding in the ship and the tug started towing her to the Azores Islands. The Elbe had sped to the Ambassador or salvage purposes and arrived Wednesday night.

The Coos Bay and the planes continued to look or lierats. Weather in the vicinity of the Ambassador improved considerably before dawn.

Twenty-one of the men aboard the vessel when she began to take on water and listed badly were dramatically picked up by crewmen of the cutter and the Norwegian freighter Fruen.

But Capt. Harry Strickland, master of the Ambassador, was dead when brought aboard the Coos Bay.

Tuesday morning, about 600 miles southeast of Halifax, N.S., the Ambassador radioed for assistance, saying its engines were dead and it was helpless in the heavy seas.

Another Ordeal of This Life— 'Let's Don't Talk About Me, Let's Just Talk About You'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals today is the person who says, "Let's don't talk about me—let's talk about you."

When you hear anyone make this remark, flee him on sight. For you are in the presence of that most boring of all bores—the "formula conversationalist."

The formula conversationalist is one of the curses of our day. He, or she, is someone who has read a book or taken a course on how to influence people through personal magnetism and social charm.

The crux of the advice he has received seems to be this: "The best way to be interesting to others is to show how deeply you are interested in them. Get them to brag a little about themselves, and they will open up like an oyster."

The mistake the formula conversationalist makes lies in believing that the average man is always glad to talk about himself to anyone who will listen, and that he enjoys bragging 100 per cent of the time.

The average man normally prefers to talk about himself only to someone he himself wants to impress; and, except when inhabited by too many martinis, he rarely brags more than 75 per cent of the time.

The male formula conversationalist claps you on the back enthusiastically with one hand while energetically pumping your limp paw with the other, as if he were trying to draw water from a reluctant well. If a woman, she puts her arm cosily in yours, snuggles close, and gazes up into your face with a soft, doe-eyed friendliness.

"Tell me what's new with you—have you taken any interesting trips lately?" Should you voter registration bill. The sheriffs association voted overwhelmingly at a Little Rock meeting Wednesday to try to get the council to give sheriffs the registration job. The council's bill gives it to county assessors.

Brandon said his bill will include some key points from bills already presented to the council by Rep. Hardy Croxton of Benton County and Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County.

The Arkansas League of Women Voters opposes the tentative bill the council created last week.

Brandon said his compromise bill would establish a permanent system and signature safeguards proposed by Croxton; would assign the responsibility of registration to county assessors and would have no party affiliation clause, as proposed by Cottrell.

Meanwhile, Gov. Orval E. Faubus was writing the formal "call" of the General Assembly into extraordinary session. He said he would call them to the capitol next Wednesday for what he hoped would be a three or four day session.

Sheriff Harold Norton of Jefferson County differed with other sheriffs Wednesday. He wanted county clerks to register voters.

Berlon Davis of Cross County, president of the Arkansas County Clerks Association, endorsed the position of the sheriffs.

Sheriffs are also collectors in 57 of the state's 75 counties and have collected the $1 poll tax in the past.

A spokesman said the sheriffs' collectors and 13 other sheriffs not present at the meeting has indicated they favored the attempt.

or should you not tell her about your last subway trip to the Bronx?

The trouble with the formula conversationalist's formula is that it doesn't work. People quickly realize a false interest in them from a real one.

How to deal with a formula conversationalist? As soon as he begins his butter-voiced inquiries, deal him a judo blow to the throat, put a heavy knee into his solar plexus, and say: "Enough about me — what's been happening to you lately?" You'll leave him with an unforgettable impression.

known for his jokes on segregation, have not made $500 bonds.

Grinage said demonstrators would stay at the cafe "until it serves our people, or until it closes."

He said the arrests were "what we've been waiting for. It got a little tiresome last night." The cafe closed Tuesday night when Negroes picketed it. Watson said it was closed for repairs.

Norton and his deputies loaded demonstrators into patrol cars Wednesday night to take them to jail.

The girls arrested ranged from 14 to 20 years, the men 17 to 21.

They sang in the jail, with Gregory and Hansen beating rhythmically on their cell walls.

George Howard Jr., attorney for the Arkansas branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, filed motions Wednesday in Municipal Court in behalf of Gregory and Hansen. He said the arrests violated their rights under the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

About 50 Negroes and about 50 whites watched demonstrations Wednesday night from across the street. They were in separate crowds with several policemen between them.

California Recruiting Farm Labor

WASHINGTON (AP) — California agriculture is embarking on a massive domestic recruitment program for farm workers to take the place of Mexican and other foreign workers who have been brought into this country for many years to meet seasonal farm needs.

Agricultural leaders in that state have announced that they will not seek another extension of public law 78—the so-called Bracero program — authorizing importation of season workers from other nearby countries. The law expires Dec. 31.

Sharp opposition to the program has developed in this country, particularly in view of the high level of unemployment in many rural and farming areas.

The Bracero program affects agriculture in many other states, including Arkansas.

California's decision has been announced by the Council of California Growers, which asked the state's Board of Agriculture to help in making a shift to an American farm work force. The council said the state's farms intend to embark upon a "massive intra and inter-state domestic recruitment program for qualified agricultural workers."

The success or failure of such a recruitment program will be watched by other states which have depended heavily on foreign workers. The results could have a national impact.

Denmark Leader Visits Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag of Denmark flew into Moscow Wednesday in a blinding snowstorm to a warm greeting from Premier Khrushchev.

Khrushchev told Krag, "Your visit will be an important contribution to strengthening relations between our countries and to the cause of peace in northern Europe."

MAY WE SUGGEST Nashville (Ark.) News

The General Services Administration may become weary of exposure to the public eye in the Hope post office business.

First, the GSA shrugged off some 1250 signatures which opposed what the petitioners considered a waste of thousands in the construction of a new post office in a county that, like ours, has lost much population.

When the feds decide to build, however, who are the people that they should get consideration? This applies to roads, public buildings, or public works; or the sale of wheat to Russia, shipment of powdered milk as a humanitarian gesture to Cuba; after all, these objects are merely the hoi polloi!

"Let 'em eat cake!" Anyhow the decision to build cannot be recanted. GSA has spoken.

Civic leaders now want the new post office spotted differently, so the subject is back on the griddle.

Far be it from this corner to intrude in a matter primarily Hope, but in considering a central location, is not Hope leadership overlooking a farsighted move?

We propose putting the new post office halfway between Hope and the Millwood Dam. After all, the dam proponents in Hope spent hours on the podium boasting of the magic that the reservoir would work upon the economy of the area.

One current aspirant for governor said there would be 50,000 NEW JOBS. Others talked of the expansive water line that would serve industries and far betwixt town and reservoir. Since this so obviously means a shift in population, why not put the Hope post office at McNab or Crossroads and be in step with that magic growth around the corner?

Diplomats in Private Cyprus Talks

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats negotiated privately today on proposals to keep the peace in Cyprus as Britain began flying nearly 2,000 more troops to the eastern Mediterranean island.

Security Council debate on the Cyprus crisis was in recess until Friday afternoon, and there were no sure prospects for agreement on proposals for an international force to take over enforcement of the shaky cease-fire between the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson called on the council Wednesday to endorse a Western proposal to bolster the British troops on Cyprus with soldiers from other nations.

Seeking to avoid Soviet intrusion into the dispute, Stevenson pointedly added that composition of the force would require the approval of Cyprus and her three guarantors under the 1960 independence treaties — Britain, Turkey and Greece.

Stevenson also urged the council to call on Cyprus and her three protectors to designate U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant as an impartial mediator.

The U.S. delegate spoke after Chief Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko charged the 1960 treaties had been imposed on Cyprus and denounced the British force as a Western plot to establish a North Atlantic Treaty Organization bridgehead in the eastern Mediterranean.

Backing the Greek Cypriot government of President Makarios, Fedorenko demanded that the council first give guarantees for Cyprus' territorial integrity and against aggression.

The Greek Cypriots demand council guarantees. They fear the Western powers will support Turkish Cypriot demands for partition of the island, and that Turkey will invade to aid the Turkish Cypriots, outnumbered 4 to 1 in a population of nearly 600,000.

Fedorenko accused the Atlantic alliance powers of doing everything possible to keep the issue from coming before the council and said the presence of British, Greek and Turkish troops violates Cypriot sovereignty.

Britain's Sir Patrick Dean replied that his country had intervened at the invitation of the Cyprus government and that Britain deserved thanks for taking on the peace mission.

Route 66 Star Plans Marriage

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The final chapter of "Route 66" approaches: Tod Stiles, fancy-free adventurer, is going to get married on the March 6 show, first of a two-part wind-up.

And then, with his happy bride beside him in his sports car, our hero will ride, in classic style, into the sunset, presumably to live happily ever after.

Two weeks later, on March 20, CBS' "Route 66" goes into reruns—old ones, in which George Maharis and Martin Milner were co-stars.

Tod, played by Milner, would never have been allowed to marry if the series had not been canceled.

Marriage is not only a nice way to conclude a long-running series, but also provides a handy way to "write out" a character who must disappear when an actor wants to leave the cast. Most recent example was, of course, "Bonanza," whose producer planned to marry off Adam Cartwright when Pernel Roberts wanted to quit the show. When he decided to remain, the lady was jilted—and fast.

An interesting change in another CBS series will start next Monday night. "East Side, West Side" will introduce a new character in the show, a Congressman Hanson. A couple of weeks later, on the show, the will offer social worker hero Neil Brock a job as his aide. Neil will accept, of course, and the format will change. But the switch is coming too late to save the show. It has not been renewed for another season.

CBS' explanation of Ed Sullivan's sudden change of mind about extending his hour show to 90 minutes in April is that he reconsidered taking on the extra responsibility and work of a longer show "on the advice of his physician."

The network which says he's not ailing, hopes that will bury all rumors that he didn't want to try to compete against "Bonanza's" popularity. The NBC show occupies the same time slot as that extra half-hour.

Recommended tonight: "A Wild Winter's Night," NBC, 7:30-8:30—variety special starring Jonathan Winters and Art Carney.

Hoped They Would Let Him Out

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Jack Connelly Jr. got a Municipal Court jury summons in the mail Tuesday.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) - Vietnamese armored vehicles fought their way through heavy Communist ground fire Wednesday to recover the bodies of an American pilot and his Vietnamese copilot.

The two fliers were strafing guerrillas 90 miles southwest of Saigon when groundfire hit their single-engine fighter-bomber. The plane crashed and exploded.

CAIRO (AP) - The United States has denied a report it made an emergency airlift of military equipment to aid Ethiopia in its border clashes with Somalia.

An informed source in Cairo said Wednesday night at least three U.S. transports flew arms and ammunition to Ethiopia from American stocks in West Germany after receiving an urgent request from Emperor Haile Selassie's government.

State department officials in Washington said they knew nothing about any weapons airlift to Ethiopia.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) - The U.S. Army reported today a fourth South Korean civilian has been killed this month by an American sentry.

Three other South Koreans have been wounded in alleged attempts to burglarize U.S. military camps.

PARIS (AP) - Nationalist China's last charge d'affaires to France boarded an airliner for Formosa today.

Nationalist China broke relations with France Feb. 10. France and Communist China recognized each other Jan. 27.

DeBusschere Only One on Double Duty

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Durable Dave DeBusschere, the only pro athlete still doing double duty in basketball and baseball, is heading for spring training with a weak leg, a strong arm and a determined cake-and-eat-it philosophy.

DeBusschere signed his baseball contract with the Chicago White Sox Wednesday, then received permission from the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association to leave the club and head for spring training.

DeBusschere has been sidelined most of the NBA season with a broken leg received in a game against Philadelphia, Nov. 6. He returned to the line-up in January but aggravated the injury, and has been sidelined ever since.

Until the injury, DeBusschere had taken a couple of big steps in his basketball career, and was averaging 8.6 points a game. He has taken only uncertain steps in his bid to break into the White Sox' pitching rotation.

DePaul Happy It Wasn't a Tourney Loss

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

"If we had to lose to DePaul it's just as well we got beat now instead of in the NIT."

Maybe Larry Weise, coach of the St. Bonaventure college basketball team, didn't say those words Wednesday night, but he might have after the Bonnies lost to DePaul for the first time ever, 81-76.

It was also a sort of preview of a possible rematch in next month's National Invitation Tournament. DePaul, ninth-ranked nationally in The Associated Press poll, had been named earlier this week.

The Blue Demons, beaten by the Bonnies 71-67 last season and in three other previous games, withstood a late rally by the Bonnies before 4,265 at their Alumni Gym in Chicago.

Behind by 11 points the Bonnies surged to within three points at 77-74 with two minutes left, but couldn't get any closer as DePaul converted four straight free throws.

Fred Crawford with 25 points, nine of them in the late rally, led the boys from Olean, N.Y. Dave Mills topped DePaul with 22.

In another game involving tourney-bound teams, Pitt. in the NIT, whipped Temple, in the NCAA, 78-67. Louisville, also in the NCAA, humbled St. Francis, Pa., 84-70.

Ohio Univ. edged Miami of Ohio 63-60 for the lead in the Mid-American Conference and Penn State defeated West Virginia 86-76 for its eighth straight victory in other games on the slim national program.

Perry's Cagers Smash Lone Star

Perry's Truck Stop independent cagers copped a 109 to 96 victory over Lone Star of Texas in the Guernsey High School gym Wednesday night.

Wayne Loe hit for 30, Delton Hatfield 29 and Brint Odom 21 for Perry's. Liles had 42 and Warren 27 for Lone Star.

Oklahoma C. Signs Seven Foot Negro

By JERRY SCARBROUGH

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Eddy Jackson, the tallest member of the tallest college basketball team in the country, is almost as diversified as he is long.

The 7-foot center for Oklahoma City University, a lean 220-pounder with a quick wit and a ready smile, is or has been all these things, in no set order.

The first 7-footer to play at OCU.

The first Negro to play at OCU.

One of the most successful soft drink salesmen in Oklahoma.

A 6-8 high school football quarterback who impressed some college grid coaches.

OCU, with a line-up that averages from 6-foot-5 to a fraction under 6-7½, depending on which five players get the starting call, was named Wednesday as the 10th at-large team for the NCAA Tournament.

The lanky Jackson is one of the big reasons.

He is the team's second leading scorer with a 14-point average and is the top rebounder.

And on a team which abounds with professional prospects, he is the only one to actually receive a letter from a National Basketball Association team at this early date.

ures from nine major conferences.

Comparative figures compiled today by The Associated Press showed an increase over the same period of the 1962-63 season, except in the Missouri Valley.

Missouri Valley officials expected the final figures to compare favorably with those of last season since several sellout games are to be played.

The Southeastern Conference reported the biggest increase with a jump from an average of 4684 for 131 games last season to 6,349 through 103 games as of Feb. 15.

The Atlantic Coast Conference was next in line with an increase from 5,175 for 62 games to an average of 5,570 for 41.

Chat Heads Field of 9 Sprinters

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Chat heads a field of nine sprinters who run today for the featured 4,000 Little Rock Purse at Oaklawn Park.

The 4-year-old son of Degage and Chastise was a fast-closing runnerup to One Dot in the Inaugural Handicap last Saturday.

Chat, owned by Marion H. Van Berg, shares equal top-weight of 123 pounds with Mr. J. W. Durrett's Coal King in the 5½ furlong allowance dash.

W. Hal Bishop's Almamar, who finished fourth in the inaugural, drew 113 pounds and is considered a top threat to Chat's chances.

Rounding out a strong field are Mrs. Roy Kelly's Buds Choice, John D. Askew's Alibi Liz, Donrey Stable's Lebardue, Earl K. Carey's Pata Silver, Joe Arnold's Snack II and Greencroft Farms' Fair Turn.

Larry Snyder, who piloted Chat in the inaugural, will be in the saddle again. Chat won his last two races at the Pimlico fall meeting.

Coal King won five times in 10 starts last year, but makes his first outing of the meeting today. He will be ridden by Robert Gallimore.

Jaywalking took command at the top of the stretch to capture the featured $3,500 Benton Purse Wednesday, covering the 5½ furlongs of fast track in 1:06 2-5.

(AP)—Nine members of Golf's Hall of Fame, including a brash young newcomer named Sam Snead, are among more than 400 who will tee off Thursday in the $30,000 PGA Seniors Teacher Trophy Tournament.

The 51-year-old Snead joins the select group for the first time in this favorite event of golfers past the golden age. The winner will earn $2,500 and a trip to England to play the British Senior champ.

Other Hall of Famers in the competition will be Jack Hutchinson, 79, winner of the first Seniors tournament in 1937; Denny Shute, 59; Gene Sarazen, 61; Paul Runyan, 55; Mike Brady, 76; Jimmy Demaret, 53; Fred McLeod, 81, and E.J. (Dutch) Harrison, 54.

Warriors Are Receiving Aid Unexpectedly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

San Francisco's championship minded Warriors are receiving valuable aid from a couple of highly unexpected sources.

The Warriors have moved further ahead of their two Western Division challengers the past two nights, thanks to the National Basketball Association's cellar teams—New York and Detroit. San Francisco now leads second-place St. Louis by two games and third-place Los Angeles by 5½ games.

The Warriors stopped Cincinnati's 12-game winning streak 108-101 Wednesday night while last-place New York of the Eastern Division outscored St. Louis 120-114 and last-place Detroit of the West edged Los Angeles 116-115.

New York sneaked by Los Angeles Tuesday night 118-117. In the other NBA game Wednesday night Philadelphia whipped Baltimore 130-122.

San Francisco used an unusual defensive maneuver in halting the league's longest winning streak of the season. Wayne Hightower, who normally plays up front, guarded Oscar Robertson, a backcourt man.

Robertson still scored 29 points, not a bad night even for the Royals' ace, but the move seemed to bother Cincinnati's offense at the start.

Nevertheless, the Royals recovered sufficiently in time to take a 59-57 halftime lead. Hightower, however, sparked a third-quarter spurt that put San Francisco ahead to stay. Hightower finished with 29 points while Wilt Chamberlain had 32.

New York, winning its second straight after nine consecutive losses, overcame a 15-point deficit and whipped the Hawks. A 12-point spurge in three minutes during the third period brought New York to within two points 84-82.

Finally, with 5:41 left in the game, Len Chappell sank a long jump shot, putting the Knicks ahead to stay.

Bailey Howell's tip-in with 14 seconds remaining kept Detroit from setting a team record for losses in one season and knocked Los Angeles back another notch.

Howell's shot wiped out a Lakers' rally that brought them from a 96-86 disadvantage early in the final period to a one-point tournament at Murfreesboro, got under way Tuesday afternoon beginning at 1:15 with first game, Okolona over Fouke 55 to 28. Lewisville beat Delight 37 to 31, Guernsey 41 and Umpire 32.

In the night games beginning at 6: in action was Blevins 49 to Spring Hill's 35. Blevins took Okolona 70-42 for its second win in the tournament.

Wednesday, the second round of the tournament. Locksburg 50 to Winthrop 38-37. Locksburg 50 to Spring Hill's 35. Blevins took Okolona 70-42 for its second win in the tournament.

Thursday — Locksburg vs. Lewisville at 6:00; Bradley vs. Guernsey at 7:15 and at 8:30 M'Boro vs. Cale.

Friday, beginning at 7:00 Blevins vs. winner of Bradley and Guernsey and at 8:10 winners of Murfreesboro and Cale vs. winner of Locksburg and Lewisville.

Saturday, at 8:00 the winner of Friday's game will meet.

Grambling Climbs in College Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Evansville's first place lead over Grambling was cut to a single point and Assumption's Greyhounds advanced two more places to fourth in this week's Associated Press small-college basketball poll.

Evansville polled five first places and 72 points in the balloting by a special panel of eight regional selectors. Grambling collected three votes for first place and 71 points. A week ago, Evansville had 72 points and Grambling 68.

Pan American remained in third place followed by Assumption, Washington of St. Louis, Hofstra, Kentucky Wesleyan, Youngstown, Wittenberg and Western Carolina.

Evansville defeated DePaul and St. Joseph's of Indiana last week for an 18-2 record. Grambling is 22-1 following victories lead with 29 seconds left. Philadelphia, paced by Chet Walker's 29 points, had little trouble with Baltimore. The 76ers scored 16 of the game's first 19 points, then rolled to a 69-54 halftime lead. Philadelphia scored 39 of its points in the opening quarter.

League to Call Finley on Carpet

BOSTON (AP)—The American League calls Charles O.

Finley, recalcitrant owner of the Kansas City Athletics, on the carpet Friday.

The question that the league wants answered is: Why hasn't Finley signed a lease with Kansas City so the A's will have a place to play this season?

The baseball season opens in less than two months. Spring training starts next week.

AL President Joe Cronin called the meeting last weekend over Texas Southern and Arkansas AM&N. Pan American lifted its mark to 20-4 by beating Steubenville and St. Edwards of Austin, Tex.

Assumption, from Worcester, Mass., climbed from sixth place on the strength of victories over Merrimack and Lemoyne that boosted its record to 14-1.

Finley then insisted that he would sign a Municipal Stadium lease in Kansas City for two years. And for two years only. City officials held out for a four year lease.

Many meetings and much discussion by both sides and by attorneys failed to settle the differences.

The American League also has threatened to take Finley's franchise away from him—to kick him out of the league, in other words.

Finley replied that the league has no power to take his franchise and has threatened to sue the league for refusing him permission to move to Louisville.

Finley has retained attorney Louis Nizer for the threatened suit.

In Arkansas... after bowling, beer is a natural

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and compare scores. What better way to add to the sport and the sociableness than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—skiing, skating, or at your case in the game room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Arkansas... beer goes with fun, with relaxation

Whole Africa Race Being Wiped Out

An AP Special Report
By DENNIS LEE ROYLE
USUMBURA, Burundi (AP)—It is a time of terror for Watusi children. Misery attends the young descendants of a lordly race which for 400 years headed a feudal society in the equatorial African land that is now Rwanda.

Ill-clad and hungry, hundreds of waits are fleeing into Burundi from massacres by the stocky Bahutus, ex-slaves, that have swallowed up their aristocratic parents.

Sometimes the children are led by a tall and slender elder who survived the tribal warfare that missionaries estimate has cost the lives of up to 20,000 Watusis in the past three months.

Sometimes, ragged and ailing from exposure, they come alone to a new life in refugee camps set up for them by the Burundi government within a few miles of the frontier.

Refugee relief organizations are trying to truck in supplies to keep pace with the growth of the camps. About 22,000 refugees already are on hand.

Backgrounding the trouble is the old enslavement of Bahutus by the brown-skinned Watusis. That developed when the Watusis moved their cattle herds southward — apparently from Ethiopia in the 16th century to the lush pasturage between Lake Victoria and Lake Tanganyika.

Rwanda was part of a Belgian protectorate when the Bahutus, a pure-blooded Negro tribe, rebelled against the Watusis and drove out many to neighboring countries in 1959.

The current bloodshed started late last year when Inyenzi bands, challenging the modern weapons of Rwanda's Belgian-officered army of 1,200 Bahutus, launched a series of raids across the frontier in a desperate bid to retake the country.

Everyone Tries to Cut Jobless

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Ideas on how to cut unemployment are almost as numerous as persons out of work. Everyone is against large-scale unemployment. But often he's also against the other fellow's plan for making more jobs.

On the same day this week that the secretary of labor was making a plea for cutting down overtime to spread the work, labor leaders were advocating shorter work weeks with the same goal in view, and the president of the nation's second largest bank was saying both schemes were unsound and more harmful than helpful.

Tax cut advocates were sure their goal would solve the problem by boosting the economy. Some union leaders were saying higher wage scales would do the trick better by getting the money where it counts.

Government economists were urging labor and management to work closer on all problems, chronic or acute, including the role of automation in the loss of jobs.

Some saw more education and discouragement of student drop-outs as the cure. And plans for retraining those whose jobs had been eliminated were as varied in size and scope as they were numerous.

Earlier retirements appealed to many in labor ranks—especially the younger ones. The United Automobile Workers Union was reported studying a scheme whereby the work week of workers over the age of 60 would be progressively shortened. This would let the older worker "get used to retirement ahead of time" — and provide more of the available work for the younger ones.

The steel industry is trying longer vacations for senior workers.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz' assault on the recent increase in overtime when so many are out of work was in support of an administration plan to set higher rates for overtime in industries where it figured that that would make employers create more jobs instead. But the secretary was against the plan of many union labor leaders to cut the official work week to 35 hours from 40.

In the auto industry overtime averaged 5.4 hours last October. The union figured wiping that out would add 60,000 jobs.

Wirtz, looking at office jobs, said 1.5 million clerical workers currently work 41 or more hours a week while 400,000 others are looking for office jobs. The administration contends that making overtime too expensive would create more jobs.

But David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank, told a Detroit audience

"Sweetheart" Treats

These easy-to-make treats are destined to make Leap Year a complete success! The tiny Coconut Crisps, perfect for munching like candy or for using as a garnish, are made by blending 1 cup of packaged grated coconut with 3 tablespoons of melted butter (or creamy peanut butter). The mixture is then chilled, shaped into tiny balls, and baked at 425°F. until golden brown. Cool the crisps before removing from baking sheet. For the Tea Turtles, use 8 dozen prepared turtles, about 1" wide. Sprinkle chopped walnuts on the bottom of each turtle and fill with 1 teaspoonful of canned applesauce with cinnamon added or canned fruit pie filling. Sprinkle with packaged grated coconut and serve. Wonderful ideas for a Valentine party!

Coconut Butterballs
1/2 cup butter
2 tablespoons unsifted confectioners' sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
3/4 cup packaged grated coconut

Cream butter. Add sugar and vanilla and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour, all at once, and blend well. Add coconut, mixing well. Shape into 3/4-inch balls and place on ungreased baking sheets. Chill 15 minutes. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 15 minutes, or until delicately browned. Roll in additional confectioners' sugar while still warm. Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

CHAPTER 28

Gail glanced at me. "And now?"

"Find Charlton's car."

"If he didn't go on," she suggested.

"Can he get up into the hills?"

"There are roads," Gail told me, "but first, let's ask some questions." She turned the car off the main street and found a slot to park in.

A boy with a shoeshine box hung over his shoulder appeared as though he had risen from the ground. "Watch your car, Mister?"

"Give him a quarter," Gail said.

I had left all our change in the phone booth when I'd called Lieutenant Valerich. I opened my wallet and found a dollar. I gave it to the boy. His grin owned the world.

"You're a fool with your money," Gail said.

I smiled at the boy. "We are all brothers," I said. "Pablo and me and the argus pheasant — all doing our best to avoid the slivers."

"Jorge, Mister."

"Honored, Jorge," I said. We bowed to each other. He was delighted.

"Safer than not, the dollar," Gail said. "I was down here once with Jack when he told the boy to go to the devil. Took him $200 to have the car repainted. These little tramps make sure it pays to have your car watched."

"I never did like Jack," I said.

I started in the direction of the nearest cantina.

"Let's stay away from that one," Gail suggested. She took my arm, a gorgeous blonde.

It couldn't have been 200 yards, still, I had two chances to buy wrist watches, three opportunities to buy Gail junk jewelry and imported perfume, and two boys who wanted to guide me to the best shop for buying my liquor quota.

Then we went down an alley and turned into a bar I normally wouldn't have entered without a man out on point and a strong defense perimeter.

"Chiquita," the bartender said to Gail, "corazon de mi corazon."

She answered quickly and that raising overtime pay from time and a half to double time was a defeatist approach, and a 35-hour week would also be inadequate.

Many employers have taken the same line: Double time pay for overtime would increase costs without creating many jobs, too much overtime is on an emergency basis to meet a rush of orders, equipment breakdowns or worker absenteeism. If it cost too much the employer was more likely just to eliminate it, thereby losing the order or delaying shipment; the worker would lose the extra pay he now gets at times; the consumer might have to pay higher prices because of higher costs.

easily in Spanish, and all I knew for sure was that his name was Miguel and that she called him uncle. The crowd relaxed; we were no longer out of place.

She held hands with me under the edge of the bar and talked to Miguel. When he went away to serve some of the working customers Gail said, "He has not been here, but Tio Miguel thinks he is in town."

"The redhead?"

"His name is Dave Braint Miguel says there are a couple of contacts in the crowd, people who can dispose of a new car. Miguel doubts that both would be here unless Braint had made a call. A new Cad is a pretty good piece of merchandise."

"What's that mean?"

"Two to three thousand dollars over the retail price in Arizona."

I said to Gail, "But the Jinx told me that whatever I was looking for, money would be no key to it. He was trying to help me, but he was also trying to save his own life. Apparently he didn't make it."

"You liked the Jinx, didn't you?"

"I spent most of the time hating his guts. Then I found out something, not about him, about myself. It was after the fight in the yard. Jinx began to talk to me then, and because I had to take time to listen I learned that both of us wanted to reach toward the stars, and I really wasn't sure that mine were any higher or any more firmly in the heavens. I wanted vindication, proof that I was an individual who had been wronged. Do you know what the Jinx wanted?"

Gail shook her head.

"To see the Dodgers play in Chavez Ravine. Do you think my motives for freedom were any better, any more affirmative than that?"

"We met a hundred years too late, Duffey."

I said to Gail, "I still can't figure this no-money angle."

"Eight, 10, 12 thousand dollars—that's a lot of money, Duffey. Week after week, month after month of crossing the border. It has to have been banked somewhere on this side; it has to be banked again on the other side. Money flowing across an international line leaves a record. Ever think of that?"

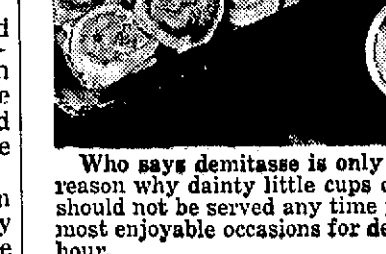

"Sure, I've thought of that, even in my sleep."

"There are still some places over here," Gail said, "where poppies grow between rows of corn. The government's working hard to stamp them out, but corn grows tall. Even to a searching plane, corn looks like corn, makes a distinctive, angular shadow. It can hide the poppies."

Afternoon Coffee and Cinnamon Pinwheels

Who says demitasse is only an after-dinner coffee? There's no reason why dainty little cups of coffee, brewed richer than usual, should not be served any time you want a small coffee. One of the most enjoyable occasions for demitasse is the late-afternoon coffee hour.

Demitasse coffee is attractive refreshment in its own right and demands very little party fare. A tray of finger foods is sufficient, so long as they have flair. These Cinnamon Pinwheels, for instance, are ideal—neither too sweet nor too pungent, but festively pretty. And you'll find the spicy flavor a perfect complement to the rich, fragrant coffee.

The Smothers Brothers Are Riding a Rage

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Yes, Virginia, the name is really Smothers and they are really brothers. The Smothers Brothers are riding the crest of the folk craze to a pair of tidy fortunes.

Within three short years, the brothers have played most of the television variety shows many times over and gleaned gold from concerts throughout the land—100 in 1963. The juggernaut, starting-eyed pair net as much as $7,500 for a night's work.

What do they do? Sing folk songs. But they are different from the guitar-strummers with whom the campuses and coffee houses abound. Their stock in trade is offbeat, between-song patter that seems to be created at the moment. It isn't. Their ad libs are perfected by weeks and months of polishing.

The Smothers were back in the Hollywood base of operations after a month of needed rest. Tom, the older, wacky brother, lives in Hollywood with his bride. Dick, two years younger at 25, makes his home with wife and baby in Salinas, Calif.

"Business has been good," reported Tom, who has a sound head despite his stage demeanor. "In one week we were paid $7,500 for not doing our second Judy Garland show (she decided to do it alone). On one day's notice we did a Hollywood Palace show for $7,500. We got $3,500 for appearing at the Troubadour—not our usual price, but our agent wanted us to play a local date so he could bring in people from the studios."

There's talk of movies and television series for the boys, and they'd like to be able to stay in one place for a while.

But they have no real complaints, and no wonder. They've come far from their $4-per-night engagements at a San Jose State College hangout.

As with many folkknicks — Kingston Trio, Randy Sparks, etc. — the Smothers got their first break in a San Francisco nightery. Their first splash in the bigtime was on Jack Paar's nightly show three years ago.

"Paar kept telling our agent he didn't like folk singers—except Burl Ives," said Dick. "But one night he had a cancellation and we went on. Everything worked right that night. We played the Paar show 13 times and every time he said he didn't like folk singers—except Burl Ives."

Costello Just Waited Like a Gambler

By BERNIE GOULD

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm a gambler," says Frank Costello. "I win or I lose. That's how I got to take everything. So I just waited it out."

Monday, his gambler's luck still going strong, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled 6 to 2, with one justice abstaining, that the 73-year-old racketeer was not deportable to his native Italy. "So I win," said Costello.

often called prime minister of the underworld. "I got to say that in all my years this is the best Supreme Court we ever had. It's a square bench." Costello reached with manicured fingers for a package of imported cigarettes on the table at a Manhattan restaurant. His big, blue, diamond-studded cufflinks were initiated in gold. "F.C." That's what friends call him.

"Did the (court) decision surprise?" he repeated a reporter's question.

"Going in I figured that if my name was John Jones, I would be a 40 to 1 favorite to win the case. I had the law on my side.

But all you hear is this Costello. "So I tell you. I couldn't see making myself any better than even money."

"I think the court must've put on blinkers. They just looked at the law and not who was involved. So I win."

Monday's court decision was "the greatest victory in my life," he told his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams. Costello phoned him in Washington.

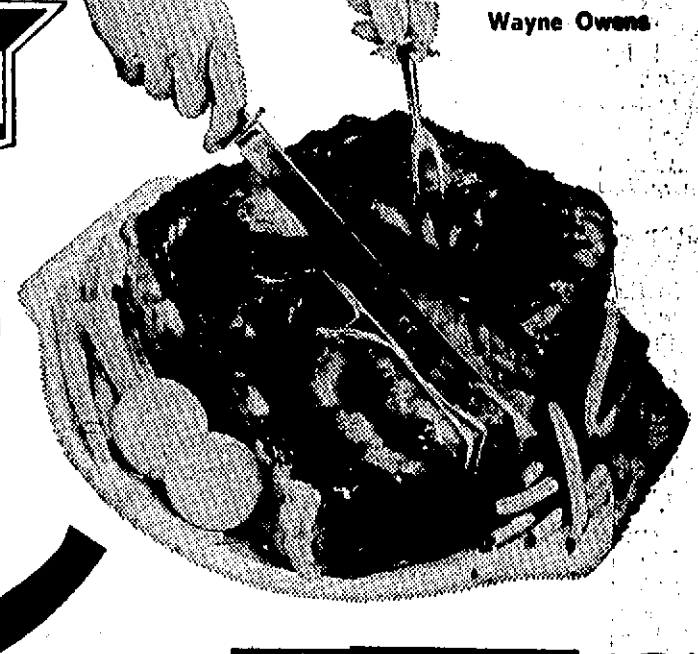

The government had sought deportation on the ground that Costello was an alien twice convicted of crimes. The high court ruled that the convictions occurred before he lost his citizenship in 1959 for having obtained it by fraud.

Gathings Aids in Killing Stamp Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., had a hand in putting the ax to the administration's food stamp bill in the House Agricultural Committee.

The committee voted 19 to 14 to table the measure, and Gathings and four other Democrats joined 14 Republicans in voting to put the bill aside, at least for this year.

The cost of the plan and the fact that the bill conferred "exorbitant authority" on the secretary of agriculture were listed as objections by Gathings. He said while one secretary might use this authority wisely, another might abuse it—perhaps for political purposes.

The food stamp plan has been operated on a pilot basis in 39 communities in 20 states the last few years. Independence County, Ark., has been one of the pilot areas.

Under the plan families buy food stamps and get additional stamps free. The stamps are exchanged in local retail stores for whatever foods the families desire.

Under the current plan, persons are given 10 surplus food commodities, with distribution handled by the local welfare agencies.

Gathings contends that under the food stamp plan the secretary of agriculture would be given authority to set up regulations under which families would become eligible, would determine what stores might be used in the program and could remove families and stores from the lists of those eligible.

He said the stamp plan would "mean too much Washington direction and supervision" while the present program means continued local supervision and control.

The current program is designed to aid relief families and also reduce stocks of surplus foods owned by the government Gathings said.

An objection brought out during the committee hearings was that the proposed stamp program would not necessarily reduce stocks of surplus foods, because relief families could buy whatever foods they desired.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said during the hearings that families would receive a much better balanced diet and that a distribution system duplicating the present retail store system would not be required, as it is at present.

Freeman said that under the present program, surplus food valued at $225 million is distributed yearly. He estimated that the cost of the surplus program would be about $260 million by 1968, and that the cost of the food stamp program would be about $360 million.

Quite a Career for This Athlete

BOSTON (AP)—Bill Stewart was best known as a no-nonsense baseball umpire, but he also was the only native American ever to coach a National Hockey League team.

He won the Stanley Cup his first year, but was fired the following year. That was the way his sports career went in about 50 years—up and down. But it was more up than down.

Stewart died Tuesday of a stroke at the age of 69 at a Veterans Administration Hospital. He also had been a minor league baseball manager, a college coach, a wrestler, a track star, a boxing referee and a major league baseball scout.

His greatest accomplishment probably was coaching the Chicago Black Hawks to the Stanley Cup in 1938. Chicago finished third in the league standings, but defeated the old New York Americans and the Montreal Canadiens in the playoffs before disposing of heavily favored Toronto for the cup.

Court Again Dictates to Lawmakers

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has decided to cure a kind of national paralysis in which politicians wouldn't budge to give voters fairer representation in Congress and state legislatures.

For years the court was too timorous to do this. It said it didn't want to butt into the political field. It took its first big step two years ago, another Monday.

First it tangled with state legislatures and now with Congress. Congressional districts, like state legislatures' districts, have been lopsided for generations.

One district with 500,000 people might have only one representative in Congress, or a state legislature, while another with only half that many people might have just as much representation.

This has worked to the advantage of the rural population, to the disadvantage of the growing cities.

Forty state constitutions required regular redistricting every 10 years or often to give voters in all sections more equal representation. But for generations some state legislatures ignored their own constitutions.

Congress has looked the other way on this question of equal representation in districts electing members of the House. The Senate is not involved. Every state, big or small, is entitled to two senators.

Does a court have the right to interfere with the way Congress or a legislature provides for election of its members? State and federal courts skipped around the edges of this for years.

A famous test came to the Supreme Court in 1946—a case

Bermuda Server Wins Beauty Contest

The furniture industry's equivalent of the Academy Award has just been given to a piece of furniture which can trace its origin back 350 years to the island of Bermuda.

Picture is the Bermuda Server, which has just received the International Design Award given annually by the American Institute of Interior Designers (A.I.D.) for the best designed traditional furniture introduced during the past year.

The Bermuda Server, created of beautiful mahogany, was designed by Nicholas A. Ungaro, Co-Director of the Kroehler Design Center. It is a part of a large collection of furniture called "Crown Colony," which was inspired by the original antiques created by the early craftsmen in Bermuda several hundred years ago.

Two years of design research went into the development of "Crown Colony." It began with a letter written to the President of Kroehler Aft. Co. by historian Lurelle Guild, a resident of Bermuda and collector of Bermudian antiques. He felt that the graceful shapes and scale of the furniture could be beautifully reproduced for American families.

In addition to the A.I.D. International Design Award, Kroehler also received a citation from the Government of Bermuda for the design integrity with which the furniture was re-created. "Crown Colony" is now available throughout the country in furniture and department stores.

Cites One Reason for Federal Power

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. Hardy Croxton of Benton County said Tuesday that governmental power is concentrated in Washington partly because Arkansas' 1874 constitution has "fenced in the power of the state and local government."

Consequently, he said, "this power has gone to the federal government."

"The cities and counties of Arkansas are confined and restricted in such a way that they cannot give the people what they want," he said. "It is only natural that, because of these restrictions, people look to Washington."

Arkansas cities and counties are limited by the constitution to a property tax of 10 mills each. An amendment to grant greater taxing powers will be on the November general election ballot.

Croxton, often mentioned as a possible candidate for governor, is a leader in a move for a convention to rewrite Arkansas' constitution.

from Illinois—where populations of districts varied from 138,000 to 839,000. But the court wouldn't tell the legislature to redistrict. This is a "political thicket," the then Justice Felix Frankfurter said, backing away. He suggested the remedy for unfairness in districting is to get the state legislature to do it. This was ducking the issue.

By this reasoning the problem would probably have remained unsolved a few more generations for a very simple reason: If the far outnumbered rural population of a state dominated a state legislature—to the disadvantage of the much bigger city populations—they weren't going to let the arrangement be changed.

Two years ago the Supreme Court reversed the reasoning of 1946—in a case from Tennessee—by deciding lower federal courts may decide whether city voters are unconstitutionally discriminated against in the apportionment of legislative seats.

In Tennessee the state constitution required reapportionment every 10 years because of population shifts but there had been none since 1901.

This decision was a political shocker. It did more to stir state legislatures than anything in history in the voting field. Since then about 35 states, under the spur of the decision and the drive of cities and suburbs have taken some steps to redistrict. But this is a slow, painful road.

Then Monday the court said congressional districts in the states—it was just talking of Georgia but the ruling applies generally—must be arranged to give "equal representation for equal numbers of people" so far as practicable.

The court has set down no exact measuring stick for populations in a district. It said districting must be fair by population. It relied on the Constitution for its authority, of course, citing those sections which speak of apportionment by numbers and give protections to citizens' rights.

Now Congress at last may try not only to set up standards for districts but for congressional enforcement of the standards. If state legislatures balked, citizens could sue in federal courts.

The court, through injunction, could forbid congressional elections by districts in states guilty of malapportioned districts and order candidates for Congress to run at large until there was redistricting.

Defends the Housewife, Day Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If ever there was a misrepresented segment of the vast television audience, it is the women who turn on their sets during the daytime hours.

They have been repeatedly pictured as a lazy, slacked-jawed group, lolling in front of their sets, suffering deliciously over the problems of the soap opera families or watching other people play games. Dishes are supposed to be stacking up in the sink, beds go unmade and poor, hard-working dad is lucky if he gets cold cuts and potato salad for dinner.

The truth is that daytime serials and panel or game shows are admirably designed and used for auxiliary occupations. While football or baseball watching demands the (usually male) viewer's total attention, it is easy and pleasant to sew, darn, knit, hook rugs, paint china, wash dishes, even make beds while following the progress of "You Don't Say" or the involvements of "As the World Turns." They require, at the most, only an occasional glance at the television screen.

There will soon be another birth—and a death—in the big Goodson-Todman family of panel shows. The eight programs, spread around all three networks, will be joined by a ninth, "Get the Message," on ABC March 30. But NBC's "Missing Links" departs at the end of March.

The network once again will shuffle its daytime schedule and put the new show into an 11 a.m. spot. "Seven Keys," an audience participation show, will be dropped, on the eve of its third birthday.

The packaging firm of Goodson-Todman has network shows occupying a magnificent weekly total of 18½ hours of network time. That includes the Richard Boone dramatic anthology, but the remaining 17½ hours is all fun and games.

"Get the Message" will use celebrity-audience participant teams to guess words on the basis of clues.

Lucy Named Queen of Apple Festival

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP)—Lucy Baines Johnson, the 16-year-old daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson, has been named queen of the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival.

Miss Johnson is the first daughter of a president and the first Texan to be named queen of the 37-year old festival. She will reign from April 30 to May 2.

Shriver Takes Over New Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sargent Shriver was sworn in Tuesday as a special assistant to President Johnson to direct the administration's antipoverty campaign.

Johnson and members of the Cabinet were on hand as Herbert Miller, White House administrative officer, administered the oath to Shriver.

"Now you can officially wage war and make peace at the same time," Johnson told Shriver who will continue to direct the Peace Corps.

Bomb Rips Church in Pennsylvania

AMBLER, Pa. (AP)—An explosion ripped through the front of the Negro Bethlehem Baptist church in nearby Lower Gwynedd Township Tuesday night, causing an estimated $10,000 damage.

Sgt. John Smart, of Lower Gwynedd police, said the explosion probably was set off outside the front of the building.

Police said it apparently was caused by a bomb and they ordered a tarpaulin placed over the blast area to preserve evidence.

Members of the church choir had left the church just 15 minutes before the explosion. The blast was felt in communities as far as three miles from here in the Philadelphia suburbs.

Heavy stone steps leading to the two-story stone building were reduced to rubble and wooden window framing was splintered, police reported.

Pews were thrown forward and plaster was knocked from the walls.

The Rev. Silas B. Holmes estimated the damage and said he believed the explosion was caused by dynamite.

Marriage Facts Started Early

MEMPHIS (AP)—William H. Pace, 81, and Lena Martin, 65, were married Valentine's Day in Marion, Ark.

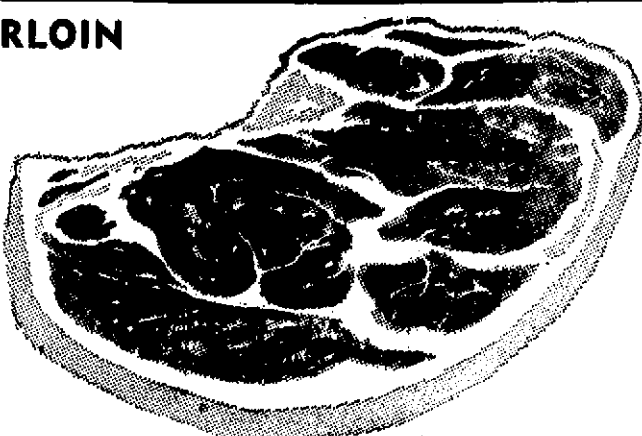

Pace was hospitalized Tuesday with a broken hip. Mrs. Pace was arrested and charged with assault and battery.

Police Capt. E. C. Swann said Pace apparently broke his hip trying to dodge ash trays and water glasses thrown by his wife.

Sunny One-Stop Breakfast!

It's not really how you eat breakfast that's important, but what. It's the nutrients you consume as fuel for the day that count, and not the time you take to eat a lot. The key to successful nutrition is recognizing your own needs, then filling them properly. If you don't like solid food upon arising, are in too much of a hurry in the morning, or live alone and don't like to fuss—you can solve your breakfast problem with a delicious solution: an all-in-one shake.

In a blender, combine Florida orange juice, milk, corn flakes, an egg—and maple syrup or honey if you like a sweet touch—and enjoy a tasty, frothy drink that will give you all the morning nourishment you need! These ingredients provide protein, carbohydrates, calcium, thiamine and other key vitamins and minerals so necessary for daily energy as well as the continuous building and repairing program your body conducts.

While fresh Florida citrus fruit is at its best, squeeze your own oranges for incomparable fresh flavor. Orange juice provides valuable vitamin C (not stored by the body), particularly needed during the winter months to help build resistance to colds and other respiratory infections.

Do yourself a flavor favor and shake up this all-in-one breakfast!

All-In-One Breakfast Shake
1 cup milk
1 cup Florida orange juice
1 cup corn flakes
1 egg
2 tablespoons maple syrup
or honey, optional
Combine all ingredients in blender. Blend until thoroughly mixed, about 1 minute. Serve immediately. YIELD: 2 servings.

League to Get Crack at Finley

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee has stepped aside to let the American League have first crack at Charles O. Finley before deciding whether to summon him for questioning.

The hard-pressed Kansas City Athletics' owner has a date Friday in Boston with his fellow clubowners to explain why he hasn't obeyed their directive to sign an agreement to operate his baseball team next season in the Kansas City Municipal Stadium.

Finley's so far unsuccessful efforts to move his team from Kansas City have brought him in conflict with league officials and both Missouri senators. But that didn't prevent him from challenging the subcommittee chairman, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., also.

Hart said he had invited Finley to testify before his antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, along with Joe Cronin, president of the American League and Warren Giles, president of the National League, but Finley's lawyer had said he felt the Kansas City owner shouldn't testify before the Friday session with American League clubowners.

Hart's subcommittee wound up two days of hearings Tuesday on a bill to extend to professional football, basketball and ice hockey the same antitrust immunity now enjoyed by baseball.

In Chicago, Finley denied he had received any invitation to testify, but said he was "ready available and willing to supply any records they want."

Finley also disclosed that he had received a telegram from Cronin rejecting Finley's request that the purpose of Friday's meeting be enlarged to include consideration of his request to move the franchise to Oakland, Calif.

Bailey Has Cost Pirates a Lot of Cash

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

You couldn't really blame Pittsburgh General Manager Joe L. Brown if he said a little prayer while locking infielder Bob Bailey's 1964 contract in the Pirate vault today.

There is the little matter of an investment of between $150,000 and $200,000 as well as the GM's reputation resting on young Bailey's shoulders. And after his rookie year with the Pirates you'd have to say that Brown is somewhat apprehensive.

The Pirate executive shelled out the huge bonus in 1961. After his prodigy burned up the International League in 1962 he virtually handed him the regular third baseman's job by swapping Don Hoak to Philadelphia last year.

The best thing you could say about Bailey's rookie year was

Weekly TV Fight Has Survived

NEW YORK (AP)—Television's weekly boxing show, longest straight-run program on television, has survived a near knockout, thanks to Madison Square Garden's formation of a video fight network.

The Garden plans to air about 50 bouts, beginning Sept. 14, to replace the current ABC series which expires Sept. 11.

"We're working on a year-to-year basis," said Garden boxing director Harry Markson, who announced the move Tuesday. "We don't know how many TV stations we'll have yet."

At least six championship bouts are on tap for the new circuit. The Garden will originate 26 to 32 of the proposed shows. The remainder will be beamed from other cities under independent promotion.

That he missed only eight games, his batting average was an anemic .228 and his 12 home runs and 45 runs batted in were hardly what Brown had in mind when he doled out all that dough.

An off season? Perhaps but why shouldn't Brown and the Pirates be fretting. Etched indelibly on their ledger is the memory of baseball's first six figure bonus baby Paul Pettit the pitcher who won exactly one game for the Pirates in return for his $100,000.

And if the Pirates are praying for Bailey the Chicago White Sox are rubbing a rabbit's foot for Joe Cunningham who also signed his contract Tuesday.

Cunningham is the first baseman-outfielder touted as the power hitter the Chisox needed to beef up their attack after he was traded to Chicago by the Cardinals in 1962. But you can't do much hitting from a hospital bed and that's just where Cunningham spent most of last season.

The rangy slugger was out of the line-up for three months recuperating from a broken collarbone. He did get into 67 games and batted .268 but was idle from June 3 till Sept. 2.

Comebacks by Bailey and Cunningham could spell trouble for contenders in both leagues but the memory of 1963 makes both great big question marks for 1964.

Family of Four Killed in Wreck

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP)—A Little Rock family of four was killed late Tuesday night in a head-on collision one mile east of Brinkley on U.S. Highway 70. Killed were Taylor Harrison, 29; his wife, Thelma 28; and two children, Carroll Ann, 3, and Gary Wayne 2 months.

State police said Harrison's car and a tractor trailer rig collided on a curve. The truck driver, Arwood J. E. Hicks, 50, of Memphis reported not seriously injured.

Harrison resigned from the Little Rock Police Department last May and took a job with the state Highway Department.

CHILDREN DON'T BELONG ON BOARDS OF DIRECTOR

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: We have two children in our family, a boy 14 and a girl 12 and I'd like to help them to be better prepared to face the world by themselves later on. I've been told that if I share my grown-up concerns with them, they'll have a more realistic viewpoint of the problems adults face when they grow older. Then, they'll be able to understand something else such as why we can't buy many of the expensive things they ask for. Do you agree that open sharing of family problems would be beneficial? —M.J.

Dear M.J.: It may surprise you, but I don't agree. Psychologists have looked into this question rather thoroughly. Offhand, anyone might think that informing children of adult problems will benefit them, as a form of learning, or indirect experience.

For instance, if they know you have concern over meeting a payment on the family's home, or on the car, or something else, these problems become examples when they grow up.

But the fact is, clinical studies by psychologists have found out something quite different. A child is more harmed than helped, they discover, by sharing a parent's problem, and particularly so when too young to see the problem in perspective. So, as a general rule: "Don't tell your troubles to your children. Not if you can help it, and certainly not to benefit them."

To understand why, look at the question from the viewpoint of a child's needs, rather than from an adult's opinion of his needs.

First, your children need love. But with it, they need a sense of security that comes from feeling there's someone they can depend on, no matter what happens. This is their mother or their father, preferably both.

If a mother or father dwells on his or her problems, a child's sense of security snaps. Suddenly, the parent he looks to for his total security, these parents are underneath uneasy, unsure, perplexed. So, who can be depend on, no matter what happens? No one. A child may not voice this fear, but he can harbor it. As one psychologist described it from his studies, imagine yourself hanging by a sturdy rope over a precipice, and then hearing the rope start to break. Picture this, and you'll know what it's like for a child to know that a parent is uncertain, perplexed or frightened.

Even if you're concerned over your job, or your family in come, don't discuss these worries before your children. Unless a small child is actually hungry, even extreme poverty affects him mainly through its effects on his parents — how they react, how they respond in front of him. So, don't transmit your family worries to your children. They can be as infectious as a virus. Your self-assurance is all-important to him. Even if you have to simulate it, do it in the interest of his emotional security.

Is There Instinctive Dislike?

Dear Dr. Brothers: Sometimes I'll enter a room, see a complete stranger, and feel antagonistic to him right away. Can you explain what causes it? —Betty Co-Ed

Dear Betty: What you describe is quite common.

It's surprising what causes this familiar experience. It isn't instinctive and has little to do with the stranger you suddenly dislike. It happens this way: Without realizing it, your unconscious is coming into action and associating this perfect stranger with someone else who has hurt you or disliked you in the past. Your negative reaction comes up into your conscious, and is transferred to the stranger.

Next time it happens, try this: Ask yourself just who this person resembles. When you remember, you'll have the reason for the strong dislike.

And your unconscious can play a similar trick without your being aware of it. You may see a stranger you "instinctively" like and are immediately drawn to. Whatever the feeling, you simply must meet him. Here your unconscious is at work again. You're associating the stranger with someone you've liked enormously in the past.

In the first case, you're simply being unfair to the other person you have never met. In the second, you may be misleading yourself!

Many women have married men because of this so-called "instinctive" attraction. If they only knew it, this intuitive reaction is merely an unconscious reminder of someone else.

Weather Picture Cloudy and Cold

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cloudy skies and cool daytime temperatures will dominate the Arkansas weather scene until Thursday, when light showers hit the state, the Weather Bureau said today.

Temperatures dropped to near freezing in the northern section of the state today. The southern and central sections had readings in the mid and upper 30s.

Maximum temperatures were mostly in the 50s Tuesday.

The five-day outlook calls for temperatures to average eight to 12 degrees below normal—highs 49 north to 60 south and lows 28 north to 39 south—with colder weather beginning Friday.

Showers Thursday and again about Sunday will total a quarter to half inch, the Weather Bureau said.

Sauce Spaghetti with a Lively Difference

Many homemakers will agree. One of the responses most often heard to the question "What do you want for dinner?" is "Spaghetti!"

With spaghetti, as any other pasta, the sauce makes the dish. Treat your family to a real surprise adventure in flavor. Serve a white clam sauce rather than the more conventional spicy red type.

This sauce is so easy to make you'll wonder why you never thought of it before. Canned onion dry soup mix is the base—and a perfect one it is. Sliced mushrooms (the canned variety), garlic (of course), chopped parsley (for color), and a can of minced clams. What could be simpler!

File this recipe in a handy spot. It warrants repeated use!

CLAM SAUCED SPAGHETTI

1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained

2 large cloves garlic, minced

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1 can (1 1/2 ounces) onion dry soup mix

2 tablespoons flour

2 1/2 cups milk

1 can (7 1/2 ounces) minced clams, drained

3 tablespoons chopped parsley

4 cups cooked spaghetti

Grated Parmesan cheese

In saucepan, brown mushrooms and cook garlic in butter. Stir in soup mix and flour. Gradually blend in milk; add clams and parsley. Bring to boil, stirring. Cook over low heat 10 minutes, stirring now and then. Serve over spaghetti. Sprinkle with cheese. Makes 4 servings.

Rivalry Does Not Hinder Black Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scoring rivalry among Chicago's players apparently doesn't hinder the Black Hawks.

The competition between Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull boosted the Hawks into sole possession of first place in the National Hockey League Wednesday night.

Mikita, the league's leading pointmaker, scored two goals and Hull, running second, tallied three assists in Chicago's 7-2 victory over New York. The triumph gave the Black Hawks 71 points to 69 for the runner-up Montreal, which was idle Wednesday night.

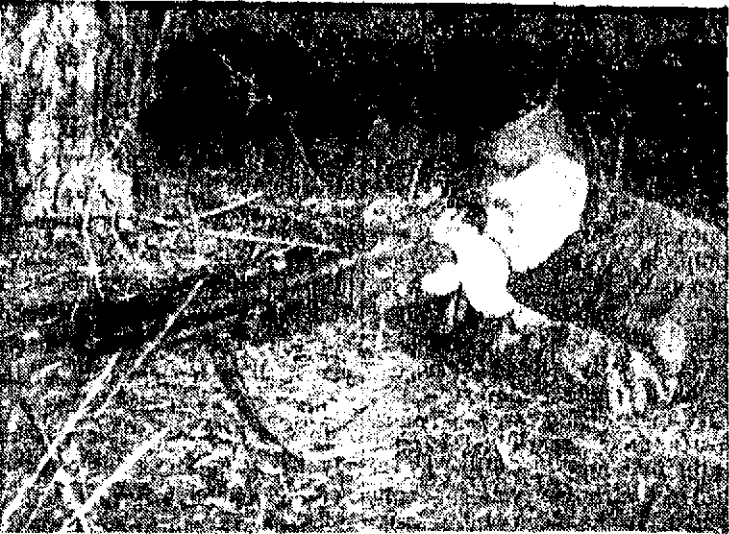

Toronto and Detroit fought to a 1-1 deadlock in the other game.

Mikita's goals were his 32nd total to 73. Hull shot to 70 points, and 33rd and increased his point cutting Mikita's margin to three.

Ken Wharram also tallied twice, his 30th and 31st goals. His scores came in the first and third periods. Mikita's in the second and third.

Phil Goyette fired both of New York's goals, one in the first and one in the third, as the Rangers dropped their sixth game in the last seven and fell eight points behind fourth-place

SP4 HAROLD WEEMS, HOPE, is shown with a Browning Automatic Rifle during an Army National Guard Drill at Hope Municipal Airport. The Hope Guard unit will participate in a weekend drill Saturday and Sunday at Municipal airport, according to Lt. Kenneth C. Richert, Texarkana, unit commander.

THE UNIT, COMPANY "B", 1st Bn., 154th Infantry, will meet for 16 hours and will study night compass problems and squad tactics. This is the required training for the local unit for February.

THESE "BACK-TO-BACK" drills are a part of a pilot program, Arkansas being one of seven states participating in the program to determine if multiple drills will result in better Guard training.

Detroit in what had been a battle for the last Stanley Cup playoff spot.

The Red Wings, meanwhile, couldn't move any closer to third-place Toronto. Ron Stewart's second-period goal allowed the Maple Leafs to maintain their four-point spread over Detroit.

Course Owner and the PGA Are Feuding

By BEN FUNK

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—A growing feud between the Professional Golfers Association and John D. MacArthur, salty multimillionaire builder of the new PGA National Golf Club headed Thursday toward a court decision.

MacArthur, head of the Bankers Life and Casualty Company of Chicago, and founder of Palm Beach Gardens, sued the PGA Wednesday charging that it had failed to execute a contract to buy the club.

MacArthur said he had spent more than $3 million building the club house and two 18-hole golf courses for the PGA, had more than a million coming back to him, and needed the PGA to move in and help him sell lots in Palm Beach Gardens, his development north of Palm Beach.

He claimed at a news conference that he had been stalled off in repeated attempts to get PGA officers to sit down with his attorneys and complete the contract.

Warren Cantrell, PGA president, reported that his organiza-

This versatile crab-stuffed soufflé, selected as the outstanding entry from among 25,000 original recipes submitted in a national contest, will serve as a delightful entree for an American-style Chinese dinner party, a special treat for the family or as a Lenten or meatless day dinner. Crab Cantonese with Shrimp Sauce is a light soufflé roll stuffed with crab meat, crisp bean sprouts and slivered almonds and seasoned with soy sauce. Cream of shrimp soup and parsley are combined in the quick-to-prepare sauce.

Three Die in a Construction Ditch

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Three men were killed and a fourth injured Tuesday when the side of a 20-foot-deep ditch gave way at a construction site.

The men were employed in the construction of a new sewage treatment plant 2½ miles southeast of Stillwater.

The dead were Leslie Cantrell, 36, Midwest City; Glen Smith, in his 30s, of Oklahoma City, and Kenneth Harting, 39, Glencoe.

tion was ready to fulfill the contract and take over the club whenever MacArthur could fulfill all building commitments and furnish clear title to the land.

Cantrell added that the PGA had just set up a conference with MacArthur's lawyers for next Tuesday to discuss the contract when it was hit with his lawsuit.

The battle flared as more than 400 golfers prepared to tee off Thursday over the new courses in the $30,000 PGA Seniors Tournament.

The first hint of trouble came last month when the PGA announced that several of its winter tournaments would be transferred from Palm Beach Gardens to Port St. Lucie, a golf resort north of here, because the new courses were not ready for competition.

MacArthur immediately got a circuit court injunction blocking the move and three of the tournaments have been played here.

Confusion in Viet Nam Over Threats

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—In bomb jumpy Saigon today a grenade was reported about to explode inside the U.S. Information Agency building, an American soldier accidentally shot a Vietnamese street vendor, and the Viet Cong radio station warned people to stay away from Americans.

All streets around the U.S. Information Agency building were blocked off during the noon-hour grenade scare.

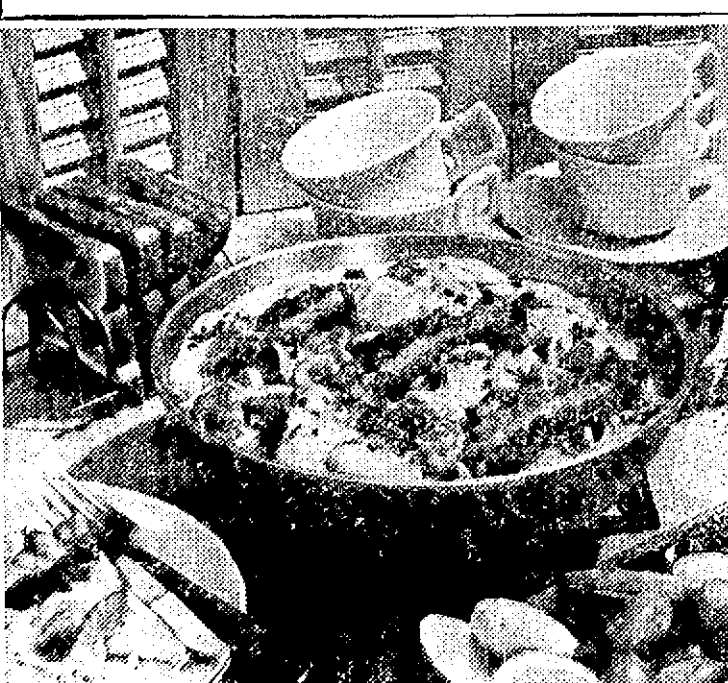

The grenade, found in the library, turned out to be a plastic dummy.

An hour earlier a pistol fell out of the shoulder holster of a U.S. Army enlisted man several blocks from the information agency building. The pistol went off when it struck the pavement and the bullet hit a street vendor. The Vietnamese were not seriously wounded.

The Communist guerrilla radio station warned that persons near Americans are liable to be killed along with the Americans. U.S. officials regarded the broadcast as a Communist effort to scare Americans in Saigon. Since Feb. 1, six Americans have been killed and 87 wounded in terrorist incidents.

A major objective in the Communist campaign is believed to be the shattering of American morale, making a negotiated settlement and neutralization of South Viet Nam acceptable to Washington.

Entertain at Brunch The Modern Way

Entertaining at brunch is becoming more and more fashionable in today's fast-paced world. Easy on the hostess... relaxing for the guests... it's an informal and friendly atmosphere for everyone.

Relaxing on canned convenience foods and modern electrical appliances, an outstanding brunch menu comes to life in minutes. The guests will rave about your special creamed chicken livers—the smooth, rich sauce is deliciously different. Canned condensed tomato soup and dairy sour cream are the magic ingredients... marjoram and thyme provide the seasoning plus.

The livers cook perfectly in your electric skillet and come right to the table to keep warm and delectable for all.

Bite-size pieces of fruit keep cool on crushed ice for an attractive and refreshing go-with... and don't forget to have plenty of steaming hot coffee.

CHICKEN LIVER BRUNCH

- 4 slices bacon
- 2 packages (8 ounces each) frozen chicken livers, thawed
- 1/2 cup sliced onion
- 1/2 teaspoon thyme, crushed
- 1 generous dash crushed marjoram
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
- 1 cup sour cream
- 4 slices toast, cut in triangles
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Preheat electric skillet to 330°F. to 350°F.* Cook bacon; remove and drain. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons drippings. Reduce temperature to 200°F. to 250°F.* Cook livers, onion, and seasonings in butter until livers are done and onion is tender. Blend in soup and sour cream. Heat, stirring now and then. Serve over toast. Garnish with parsley. Top each serving with slice bacon. Makes 4 servings.

* Follow manufacturer's directions.

Court Keeps Handing Out New Laws

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is almost 10 years since the Supreme Court, after watching Congress for half a century duck this country's most important social problem, decided to tackle the job itself.

This was the May 17, 1954, decision declaring segregation of Negroes unconstitutional. This, one of the most far-reaching court decisions in American history, began a social revolution still being fought out.

Again, after watching Congress and state legislatures fail for generations to give voters fairer representation, the court moved into this vacuum with two landmark political decisions.

In these—one in 1962, the second last Monday—the court said voting districts, from which representatives are sent to Congress and state legislatures, must be rearranged to make the population in each more equal.

As it is now, one district with 900,000 people may have only one representative in Congress while another, with only 200,000 people, also has one.

These social and political decisions had the effect of legislation, a field supposedly reserved under the Constitution for the legislative branch of government.

Nothing in the Constitution specifically gives the court the right to do this. But nothing in the Constitution says it can't.

And it's the court which interprets the Constitution.

This is not the first time the court has assumed a right not spelled out. It has done that repeatedly, although for long periods haltingly.

In 1803 it decided it had the power to declare an act of Congress unconstitutional; in 1821 it claimed the right to do the same about state legislation. The court was denounced at the time.

But those decisions helped strengthen this country's unity. The 1821 decision—the power to knock out a state law—made it possible for the court in 1954 to knock out state segregation laws.

Justice John Marshall Harlan, who got on the court too late to take part in the 1954 case, opposed the redistricting decisions of 1962 and this week.

He warned last summer that if this kind of thing continued—when the legislative branch failed to act—there would be a "substantial transfer of legislative power to the courts."

What's the alternative? If the legislative branch fails to correct an obvious wrong, must the court also do nothing even though it has power to act? By its decisions the court has rejected such a philosophy.

Even after the 1954 decision Congress has gone less than all-out to end segregation. It passed two fairly mild civil rights bills—in 1957 and 1960. But now it is wrestling with a truly powerful antidiscrimination bill.

It cannot be plausibly argued that Southern Democrats were solely responsible for the failure of Congress to act in behalf of Negroes' civil rights through all of the 20th century until 1957.

They always were, and still are, a minority in Congress. The truth is that the rest of the members—always in a majority—never cared enough about the rights of Negro citizens to squelch the Southerners, as they

Some Facts of Life in Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN

Robert A. Adcock, president of the Merchants and Farmers Bank of Dumas probably won't deny now that some clouds have a silver lining.

The new First State Bank of Gould opened recently in territory generally served by the Dumas bank.

Adcock visited the new bank on its open house and registered for an attendance prize.

Winner of the $100 savings account? Robert Adcock.

He said he would donate the money to the Gould Methodist Church.

A young fellow with a Beatle haircut walked into the student center at Arkansas Tech in Russellville the other day—and a friend walked up and inquired, "What size bowl do you wear?"

And Roys Hardware in the same community has a sign on galvanized trash cans: "Non-electric garbage disposal."

The big wild west has little on Arkansas in claiming a population of wolves. State Trapping Supervisor T. N. Rush reports that 101 wolves were taken in the state and federal trapping program last year. The trappers also got 48 bobcats.

Seen at Hamburg this weekend: A big dead bobcat hanging from a post in front of a store, with nobody gathered around to look at it.

Residents passed nonchalantly by.

Poultryman James Black of Norman in Montgomery County wants to make sure his water system keeps working, even if it does cost him a little sleep.

It is important to him, because it furnishes water for a 10,000 capacity poultry house, two rent houses and his own home.

He attached a drop cord wire to the pressure switch so that when the switch makes contact and the pump starts running, a light comes on in the window of the pump house. As long as the pump runs, the light burns and can be seen through his bedroom window.

"If the light comes on at night and burns longer than usual," Black explains, "I know something is wrong."

Man Is Found Shot to Death

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Richard Smith, 28, a Kansas University graduate student from Little Rock was found dead of a gunshot wound in the bedroom of his home Monday.

Police said circumstances of Smith's death had not been determined.

They could have, at any time. They just ignored the problem and the injustice.

If the court had not acted, segregation would probably still be considered constitutional, as it was until 1954, and might have continued so for years, since Congress showed no inclination to ban it.

Yet, such a policy would not only have built up racial hatred in this country but would have made American foreign policy look ludicrous now when it is trying to win the friendship of the world's backward peoples, especially since most of the world's people are not white.

Tasty Dish with Old-Time Flavor Tuna-Corn Country Casserole

Here's a wonderful tuna-corn casserole, easy as can be to make, and economical, too. Delectable morsels of convenient canned tuna provide hearty good taste and good nutrition, too. One serving of tuna provides more complete protein than a comparable serving of red meat. The casserole takes only minutes to prepare and then the oven does the work for you. The result—a marvelous dish with old-fashioned flavor reminiscent of Grandma's corn pudding, combined to a "T" with the delicate taste of the tuna. Tomato slices add a cheery note of color. Serve with a green salad and you'll have a meal to remember!

- Tuna-Corn Country Casserole
- 2 eggs
  - 1 can (10½ or 11 ounces) cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
  - ½ cup milk
  - ½ teaspoon Tabasco (optional)
  - 1 can (1 pound) cream-style corn
  - 2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil
  - 1 cup soft bread crumbs
  - 2 medium tomatoes, sliced
  - ½ teaspoon sugar
  - ½ teaspoon salt
  - 1 teaspoon butter or margarine
- Beat eggs; stir in soup, milk and Tabasco. Mix in corn, tuna and bread crumbs. Turn into buttered shallow casserole 10x6x1½-inches. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 45 minutes; remove. Cut tomato slices in half; place around edge of casserole. Sprinkle tomato slices with sugar and salt; dot with butter. Return to oven and bake 15 minutes longer. YIELD: 6 servings.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene—

Those who aimed to start a feud between her and Susan Hayward got no help from Belte Davis. The high-powered actresses were paired in "Where Love Has Gone"—Bette as Susan's mother, though only a decade separates their real ages.

"I would never fight with a woman," Bette said. "It would be ridiculous."

"The only actress I couldn't get along with was Miriam Hopkins. But I would never bring in differences we might have onto the set. A movie company doesn't have time for any such nonsense."

Mike Connors, who finds himself caught between Davis and Hayward in "Where Love Has Gone," found the way to lick the movies' reluctance to hire television series stars: a two-year layoff. After "Tightrope" went off the network, he found film work scarce, so he did a night club act in Mexico and Argentina.

The body was found by his wife who had been shopping. Their children, who are aged 3 and 1½, were with her.

The Smiths moved to Lawrence late in January from Arkansas where he had been in a telephone company employee. Smith was studying history and hoped to teach school.

He was graduated from Hendrix College in Conway, Ark., in June 1963 with a bachelor of arts degree.

Aid Slashed to Rights Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has halted small military aid programs for Britain, France and Yugoslavia in retaliation for their continuing to trade with Cuba.

Carrying out a congressional ban on aid to nations that trade with the Cubans, the State Department Tuesday also announced that Spain and Morocco would get no new U.S. aid until they provide "further clarification" of their trade policies with the Cubans.

Sources indicated that the amounts of aid involved in the cutoff was about $25,000-$30,000 for France and less for Britain and Yugoslavia. The exact figures are secret.

George Murphy figures his film image is an advantage in his candidacy for the Republican nomination for senator from California: "I never played a heavy, so the voters think of me as a nice guy. And I never was in any scandal. Matter of fact, newspapermen used to say they wished I would get into some fuss so they could write about me."

Richard Harris came through town—and got hospitalized from exhaustion—on route from a film in Rome to "Major Dundee" in Mexico. Of "Mutiny on the Bounty," in which he co-starred and feuded with Marlon Brando, he says little.

Fancy Fish Favors Flavor

When it's time to provide your family with a meatless meal, chances are that fish is on the menu. And when fish is about to be served, keep in mind that a food of such delicate flavor must be seasoned to perfection. Ac'cent monosodium glutamate brings out all the sweet natural "fresh caught" flavor of the fish. Add a fancy touch to your favorite kind of fish steaks with a wonderful sauce made of sour cream enlivened with chives, dill, or parsley. Serve with baked potatoes, creamed spinach, molded fruit salad, corn muffins, and spice cake for dessert.

Broiled Fish Steaks with Sour Cream Sauce
(6 servings)

- 6 fish steaks, fresh or frozen (allow to thaw if frozen)
- Ac'cent
- ½ pint sour cream
- ½ teaspoon Ac'cent
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon dry or 1 teaspoon fresh herbs, minced (chives, dill, or parsley)

Prepare sauce by combining sour cream with Ac'cent and seasonings. Brush steaks with oil or melted butter and sprinkle with Ac'cent and a little lemon juice. Place fish on preheated broiler pan. Broil about 2 inches from source of heat approximately 5 minutes, or until fish is done. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve with Sour Cream Sauce.

NOTE: It is not necessary to turn steaks if broiler pan is preheated. Fish should flake easily with a fork, but should be moist.

1st Quarter of 1964 Lives Up to Billing

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The first quarter of the year is living up to advance billing and even topping it a bit.

With the quarter past the halfway mark, the gains over a year ago are marked in most segments of the economy, as expected. Many are also pulling ahead of the fast pace of the final weeks of 1963, even though a seasonal lull would be more in line with tradition.

The rise in personal incomes strikes closest home for most persons. A significant part of the increase is traced to a faster business pace, although the biggest gain is due to government actions. Veterans insurance dividends were paid early and government employees got pay raises.

Ahead is another boost—not to gross personal incomes but to disposable incomes after taxes—the federal tax cut which should increase take-home pay in March.

But the government also reports that in January "almost advances in employment and therefore in payroll outlays."

Along with this, industrial production edged higher than in December to hit a record of 127.1 per cent of the 1957-59 average, compared with 119.2 a year ago. In 1963 the index dropped in January, but then rose sharply until July.

Optimists are hoping that from today's much higher base, industrial production will show a good gain in the Spring.

Housing starts also have turned up smartly—9 per cent higher than in December and topping year ago figures by 26 per cent. Most sections of the nation, except the north-central region, shared in the advance.

Retail sales fell off as usual from the last December pace, but were 3 per cent above a year ago.

Steel production and shipments continue to rise, and considerably faster than first predicted.

As usual many eyes are on Detroit, where auto production and sales continue to gladden the hearts of that chronically optimistic industry. If sales are so good in February's bad weather, the car makers ask, why won't they really bloom when spring opens the highways and kindles the yen to hit the road.

For all the rosy glow of many of the early 1964 reports, unusually severe weather in many parts of the nation has been taking its toll.

Construction payrolls fell in January from December, but this is expected to be recovered next month.

Farm income dipped to a $16.7 billion annual rate, off $100 million from December. This sector of personal incomes is peculiarly tied to seasonal conditions, but recovery also is the plaything of future weather whims.

Many with incomes linked at least in part with the stock market have been having a pleasant winter. Unusually high dividend payments in December couldn't be matched in January, but prices of many stocks rose. And a number of corporations voted to raise future dividend payments, to split stocks, or both.

Cheers for Calorie-Shy Cherry Snow

Perfect choice for a February party, diet-minded Cherry Apple Snow will rate raves from all your guests, slim-Jims and would-be's alike.

In keeping with the modern trend toward serving luscious but low-calorie party refreshments, this recipe has been "decalorized" to less than half its usual calorie count. Secret is in the use of the natural-tasting, calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl, to replace sugar. With its help, delicious sweetness is achieved without adding a single calorie.

- Cherry Apple Snow (Low-Calorie)
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
  - 2 tablespoons Sucaryl solution
  - ½ cup cold water
  - 1 teaspoon lemon juice
  - 1 8-ounce can Sucaryl-sweetened applesauce
  - ½ teaspoon almond extract
  - 2 egg whites
  - 2 1-pound cans water-pack red sour cherries, drained, and pitted

Soften gelatin in cold water. In saucepan, combine applesauce, pitted cherries, Sucaryl, lemon juice and almond extract; bring to a boil. Add softened gelatin, stirring to dissolve. Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form. Fold in the hot cherry mixture. (Mixture will appear slightly curdled.) Pour into a 6-cup mold; chill until set. (Two layers will form.)

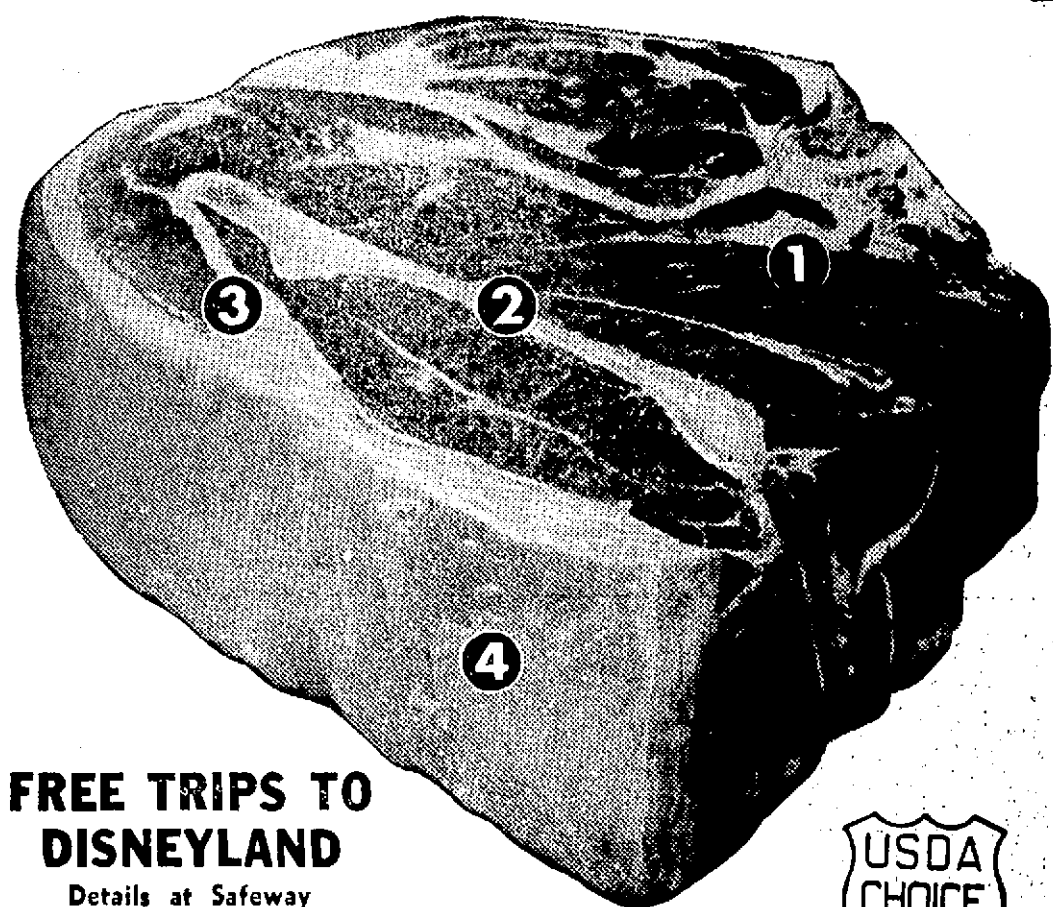

Makes 8 servings. Each serving contains 78 CALORIES; 4 grams protein; 0.6 gram fat; 16.5 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 175 CALORIES.

Details at Safeway

See for yourself why you get so much more!

- ① Note the large proportion of lean meat to fat and bone. We never "rob" a chuck roast of lean meat (as some do) to be sold as boneless beef at a higher price.
- ② There's bone, of course, but it's carefully trimmed. Grandma tells us that the juices which flow through the meat from the bone help give pot roasts their perfect flavor.
- ③ Just enough fat is left on a Safeway chuck roast to make sure it will cook tender, flavorful and juicy and have that rich brown color you want in your pot roasts.
- ④ It's cut from USDA Choice Beef. Only beef judged by expert U.S. government graders to be of fine-eating quality is awarded this high grade.
